Bringing the joy of classical music close to home

Made up of volunteer musicians from Livingston and the metropolitan area

The Livingston Symphony Orchestra has grown over the years to become one of the finest regional symphonies in the area. Yet our mission has remained the same - to foster and maintain a community focused organization that brings the exciting world of classical music close to home, at an affordable price.

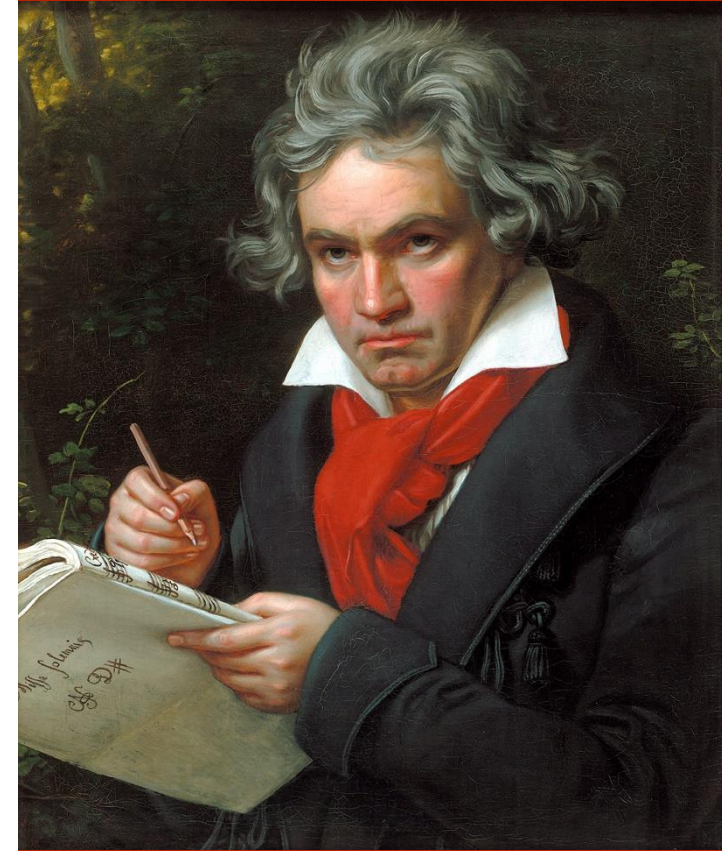

A non-profit organization, the Livingston Symphony Orchestra receives funding solely through the generosity of foundations, grants and the public at large.
